

A $75,000 FIRE IN FAYETTE CITY.

Whole Block Burned From Reported Incendiary Origin.

THREATENED THE TOWN

Fire Departments from Monaca and Charleroi Were Called Upon to Help Fight Big Blaze—Business Houses That Were Burned Out.

Special to The Courier.
FAYETTE CITY, Jan. 22.—This town was visited by a $75,000 fire this morning which cleaned out a whole block. The origin of the big blaze is said to have been incendiary. It started at 1:30 o'clock and was not under control until after 7 o'clock.

The fire started in the Mullin block, in the tail of the shop of Mr. Meyer. A fire was discovered in the kitchen early on the morning of December 29 when a fruit jar that had contained oil was found in the shop. At that time there were evidences that the oil had been poured over the floor and then set on fire. Meyer carried only a small stock and had little insurance. At the time of the fire in December and this morning he was at home in bed at the time the blaze was discovered. Examples of Meyer are suspected of setting fire to his shop.

The Monaca and Charleroi fire departments were called upon and came here on special cars, one over the Lake Erie railroad from Monaca and the Charleroi department from that town by trolley. Both of them did valuable work in assisting the local department. The department was also called from Belveron, but the request was countermanded when it was seen the fire was under control.

For a time it looked as though the heart of the town would be burned out this morning. The block from Main to Fourth street is now a smoldering mass of ruins. The losses are as follows:

M. MYER, tailor shop, loss $2,500, no insurance; J. M. VARIETY STORE, loss $1,000, partly insured.

JOE HORN, fruits, loss $300, no insurance.

M. GLENN CLAHL, loss $1,500, partly insured.

WILLIAMS PHARMACY, loss $2,000, $1,000 insured.

MILLER, BALDWIN, post room, $2,500, partly insured.

LYTHE PHARMACY, loss $200, damage, partly insured.

CITIZENS BANK, $300 damage.

MCAY BUILDING, $300 damage.

DRYERS, MEAT MARKET, $200, damage, partly insured.

J. M. MULDRIDGE, the shop, $50 damage.

PEACE SCHOOL, HOUSE, $2,500 damage, partly insured.

BRICK SCHOOL HOUSE, $1,500, partly insured.

J. M. MULDRIDGE & SON, hardware warehouse, $2,000, fully insured.

The big hardware store of J. P. Slotterbeck had a narrow escape from destruction. The burning of the school houses will cause a suspension of school for a week or so until temporary quarters can be fixed up for the pupils.

No one was injured during the fire though there were several narrow escapes.

The two buildings destroyed, the Mullin building and the George W. Miller building, were worth in the neighborhood of $50,000. The Mullin building was a three story one, while the Miller building was two stories. The loss on these buildings is partly covered by insurance.

King is Held for Indecent Assault

William King, who is alleged to have committed an "indecent assault" upon Mrs. Lucia Wyant last Wednesday morning, was given a hearing before Justice of the Peace W. P. Clark this morning. King, much sobered as the result of his confinement in the lock-up since the time of the attack, admitted he was drunk and did not know what he was doing. He wanted to apologize, but it wasn't accepted.

Squire Clark held the man for court and in the absence of bail, committed him to jail.

Three Counties to Participate.
Everything is ready for the big educational rally at Mountaintop Saturday, January 25, Washington, Fayette and Greene counties will be represented by some of their best educators.

Warmer Weather.
Warmer tonight and Tuesday. Slightly rising temperature is the noon weather bulletin.

Director C. H. Balsley Makes Statement Relative to Material in New Building.

School Director Charles H. Balsley of the Seventh ward, West Side, has made an affidavit before Notary J. B. Kurtz relative to material used in the new High School building. The statement is published below by request:

By request of a number of citizens of Connellsville Borough, I, Charles H. Balsley, a citizen of Connellsville Borough and member of the Connellsville School Board, do make the following statement in regard to the material used in the new High School building, in which the work was done:

That the slate on the roof, sheathing, exterior and interior, including

asbestos, shingles, window glass, cement, asphalt, sand and unions in water glass, were not as called for in the specifications.

That the construction of the stables, platform and steel work, waterproofing of exterior and interior, exterior of masonry and underground ducts, painting of interior wood work, and the manner in which the work was done:

That the slate on the roof, sheathing, exterior and interior, including

asbestos, shingles, window glass, cement, asphalt, sand and unions in water glass, were not as called for in the specifications.

That the construction of the stables, platform and steel work, waterproofing of exterior and interior, exterior of masonry and underground ducts, painting of interior wood work, and the manner in which the work was done:

That the slate on the roof, sheathing, exterior and interior, including

asbestos, shingles, window glass, cement, asphalt, sand and unions in water glass, were not as called for in the specifications.

That the construction of the stables, platform and steel work, waterproofing of exterior and interior, exterior of masonry and underground ducts, painting of interior wood work, and the manner in which the work was done:

That the slate on the roof, sheathing, exterior and interior, including

asbestos, shingles, window glass, cement, asphalt, sand and unions in water glass, were not as called for in the specifications.

That the construction of the stables, platform and steel work, waterproofing of exterior and interior, exterior of masonry and underground ducts, painting of interior wood work, and the manner in which the work was done:

That the slate on the roof, sheathing, exterior and interior, including

asbestos, shingles, window glass, cement, asphalt, sand and unions in water glass, were not as called for in the specifications.

That the construction of the stables, platform and steel work, waterproofing of exterior and interior, exterior of masonry and underground ducts, painting of interior wood work, and the manner in which the work was done:

That the slate on the roof, sheathing, exterior and interior, including

asbestos, shingles, window glass, cement, asphalt, sand and unions in water glass, were not as called for in the specifications.

That the construction of the stables, platform and steel work, waterproofing of exterior and interior, exterior of masonry and underground ducts, painting of interior wood work, and the manner in which the work was done:

That the slate on the roof, sheathing, exterior and interior, including

asbestos, shingles, window glass, cement, asphalt, sand and unions in water glass, were not as called for in the specifications.

That the construction of the stables, platform and steel work, waterproofing of exterior and interior, exterior of masonry and underground ducts, painting of interior wood work, and the manner in which the work was done:

That the slate on the roof, sheathing, exterior and interior, including

asbestos, shingles, window glass, cement, asphalt, sand and unions in water glass, were not as called for in the specifications.

That the construction of the stables, platform and steel work, waterproofing of exterior and interior, exterior of masonry and underground ducts, painting of interior wood work, and the manner in which the work was done:

That the slate on the roof, sheathing, exterior and interior, including

asbestos, shingles, window glass, cement, asphalt, sand and unions in water glass, were not as called for in the specifications.

That the construction of the stables, platform and steel work, waterproofing of exterior and interior, exterior of masonry and underground ducts, painting of interior wood work, and the manner in which the work was done:

That the slate on the roof, sheathing, exterior and interior, including

asbestos, shingles, window glass, cement, asphalt, sand and unions in water glass, were not as called for in the specifications.

That the construction of the stables, platform and steel work, waterproofing of exterior and interior, exterior of masonry and underground ducts, painting of interior wood work, and the manner in which the work was done:

That the slate on the roof, sheathing, exterior and interior, including

asbestos, shingles, window glass, cement, asphalt, sand and unions in water glass, were not as called for in the specifications.

That the construction of the stables, platform and steel work, waterproofing of exterior and interior, exterior of masonry and underground ducts, painting of interior wood work, and the manner in which the work was done:

That the slate on the roof, sheathing, exterior and interior, including

asbestos, shingles, window glass, cement, asphalt, sand and unions in water glass, were not as called for in the specifications.

That the construction of the stables, platform and steel work, waterproofing of exterior and interior, exterior of masonry and underground ducts, painting of interior wood work, and the manner in which the work was done:

That the slate on the roof, sheathing, exterior and interior, including

asbestos, shingles, window glass, cement, asphalt, sand and unions in water glass, were not as called for in the specifications.

That the construction of the stables, platform and steel work, waterproofing of exterior and interior, exterior of masonry and underground ducts, painting of interior wood work, and the manner in which the work was done:

That the slate on the roof, sheathing, exterior and interior, including

asbestos, shingles, window glass, cement, asphalt, sand and unions in water glass, were not as called for in the specifications.

That the construction of the stables, platform and steel work, waterproofing of exterior and interior, exterior of masonry and underground ducts, painting of interior wood work, and the manner in which the work was done:

That the slate on the roof, sheathing, exterior and interior, including

asbestos, shingles, window glass, cement, asphalt, sand and unions in water glass, were not as called for in the specifications.

That the construction of the stables, platform and steel work, waterproofing of exterior and interior, exterior of masonry and underground ducts, painting of interior wood work, and the manner in which the work was done:

That the slate on the roof, sheathing, exterior and interior, including

asbestos, shingles, window glass, cement, asphalt, sand and unions in water glass, were not as called for in the specifications.

That the construction of the stables, platform and steel work, waterproofing of exterior and interior, exterior of masonry and underground ducts, painting of interior wood work, and the manner in which the work was done:

That the slate on the roof, sheathing, exterior and interior, including

asbestos, shingles, window glass, cement, asphalt, sand and unions in water glass, were not as called for in the specifications.

That the construction of the stables, platform and steel work, waterproofing of exterior and interior, exterior of masonry and underground ducts, painting of interior wood work, and the manner in which the work was done:

That the slate on the roof, sheathing, exterior and interior, including

asbestos, shingles, window glass, cement, asphalt, sand and unions in water glass, were not as called for in the specifications.

That the construction of the stables, platform and steel work, waterproofing of exterior and interior, exterior of masonry and underground ducts, painting of interior wood work, and the manner in which the work was done:

That the slate on the roof, sheathing, exterior and interior, including

asbestos, shingles, window glass, cement, asphalt, sand and unions in water glass, were not as called for in the specifications.

That the construction of the stables, platform and steel work, waterproofing of exterior and interior, exterior of masonry and underground ducts, painting of interior wood work, and the manner in which the work was done:

That the slate on the roof, sheathing, exterior and interior, including

asbestos, shingles, window glass, cement, asphalt, sand and unions in water glass, were not as called for in the specifications.

That the construction of the stables, platform and steel work, waterproofing of exterior and interior, exterior of masonry and underground ducts, painting of interior wood work, and the manner in which the work was done:

That the slate on the roof, sheathing, exterior and interior, including

asbestos, shingles, window glass, cement, asphalt, sand and unions in water glass, were not as called for in the specifications.

That the construction of the stables, platform and steel work, waterproofing of exterior and interior, exterior of masonry and underground ducts, painting of interior wood work, and the manner in which the work was done:

That the slate on the roof, sheathing, exterior and interior, including

asbestos, shingles, window glass, cement, asphalt, sand and unions in water glass, were not as called for in the specifications.

That the construction of the stables, platform and steel work, waterproofing of exterior and interior, exterior of masonry and underground ducts, painting of interior wood work, and the manner in which the work was done:

That the slate on the roof, sheathing, exterior and interior, including

asbestos, shingles, window glass, cement, asphalt, sand and unions in water glass, were not as called for in the specifications.

That the construction of the stables, platform and steel work, waterproofing of exterior and interior, exterior of masonry and underground ducts, painting of interior wood work, and the manner in which the work was done:

That the slate on the roof, sheathing, exterior and interior, including

asbestos, shingles, window glass, cement, asphalt, sand and unions in water glass, were not as called for in the specifications.

That the construction of the stables, platform and steel work, waterproofing of exterior and interior, exterior of masonry and underground ducts, painting of interior wood work, and the manner in which the work was done:

That the slate on the roof, sheathing, exterior and interior, including

asbestos, shingles, window glass, cement, asphalt, sand and unions in water glass, were not as called for in the specifications.

That the construction of the stables, platform and steel work, waterproofing of exterior and interior, exterior of masonry and underground ducts, painting of interior wood work, and the manner in which the work was done:

That the slate on the roof, sheathing, exterior and interior, including

asbestos, shingles, window glass, cement, asphalt, sand and unions in water glass, were not as called for in the specifications.

That the construction of the stables, platform and steel work, waterproofing of exterior and interior, exterior of masonry and underground ducts, painting of interior wood work, and the manner in which the work was done:

That the slate on the roof, sheathing, exterior and interior, including

asbestos, shingles, window glass, cement, asphalt, sand and unions in water glass, were not as called for in the specifications.

That the construction of the stables, platform and steel work, waterproofing of exterior and interior, exterior of masonry and underground ducts, painting of interior wood work, and the manner in which the work was done:

That the slate on the roof, sheathing, exterior and interior, including

asbestos, shingles, window glass, cement, asphalt, sand and unions in water glass, were not as called for in the specifications.

That the construction of the stables, platform and steel work, waterproofing of exterior and interior, exterior of masonry and underground ducts, painting of interior wood work, and the manner in which the work was done:

CIVIL COURT IS
NOW IN SESSION.(Continued from First Page.)

overruled and dismissed. The $200 bill bond of A. T. Williams, formerly of Connellsville, convicted at the December term on a section charge brought by his wife Mrs. Hattie Williams, was forfeited and resold to the next session of court. Sentence has not yet been imposed.

Two divorce cases were filed by former Connellsville parties. Milt Gilliam of Dunbar filed a bill against James Gilliam of Uniontown, charging desertion since March 1, 1909. Infidelity is also alleged and Carrie Springfield named. The Gilliams were married at Connellsville October 22, 1901, where they resided until the time of the legal separation.

Lloyd A. Miller, in legal separation from Nellie M. Miller, 200 South, now of South Connellsville. The defendant, who resides in Samerick, alleges cruel and barbarous treatment. He left home in November, 1909.

Robert Eberhart of Connellsville appeared before the court to enter a plea of guilty to carrying concealed weapons. Eberhart stated he was carrying a paid of knuckles which he did not care to leave in his room and in pulling out a handkerchief the knuckles dropped to the ground. Officers were notified by spectators. The court stated that even under the circumstances no gun could be shown. By permission of the court of guilty was withdrawn and the case will go to trial.

The rule was granted under L. L. Miller, Jacob Davis and A. P. Austin to show cause why they should not be adjudged in contempt for disobedience of the order of court April 25, 1910, on petition of John A. Hebb. Hebb is the inventor of a coke drawing machine and turned his machine over to the Hebb Coke Company in exchange for court. Part of this he did not get and on taking the matter to court an order was made in his favor. The court further directed that the 90 days has elapsed and that defendants have not yet complied with the demands.

Allas subpoenas in divorce were directed to be issued in the cases of Lizzie K. Stillman against Seymour Stillwagon; Lizzie G. Core against Clyde A. Core; Springer C. Miller against Anna E. Miller.

OLD GAS LINE
IS UNCOVERED.(Continued from First Page.)

was found to be of a white color as if it had been burned for some time, as was the case.

Among those who were on the ground and took a great interest in the investigation was B. L. Horner of New York, a representative of the J. G. McCormick Company. Superintendent F. C. Best of the local police appeared together with a number of men who assisted in uncovering the pipes. Attorney D. M. Hertzog of Uniontown, who has been retained by the McCleary people, was also present. Manager C. L. Poff, of the five and ten cent store was another interested spectator. During the entire afternoon scores of curious people crowded around the men as they worked.

It was necessary to shut off the gas intake line along Apple street about 4:30 when the police were ready to test the pipes for leakage. Men were sent from house to house warning all consumers to shut off the gas until the tests were over.

Sneak Thieves
at East Liberty

C. B. Harper, a P. & L. E. conductor and living on the A. J. C. farm in Dunbar township, had quite an exciting time Friday night. Mr. Harper and family retired about 11 o'clock and his 15 year old daughter, who was sleeping down stairs, was awakened by hearing an unfamiliar noise. She got up and called her father.

He made an investigation and found that two or three men were trying to break into the house. With a big 44 he started out the rear of the house and the sneak thieves had a hasty retreat in a window shot and Harper sent several shots in their direction. One of the men went out the State road at a two minute clip and the other took another direction.

Tom Donegan
Is Promoted

Thomas V. Donegan, one of the oldest of the younger employees in Connellsville of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, in point of service, has been promoted to the foremanship of the tailoring shop, vice Samuel McFadden, who has been given lighter labor. Mr. McFadden is one of the veteran employees of the local shops and has always been popular with the men.

Tom Donegan learned his trade in the old Baltimore & Ohio shops and, except for about a year, has always been employed in them. He is an expert machinist and his promotion is a source of gratification to his many friends.

Classified Advertisements
in this paper cost only 1 cent a word.
Have you tried them?

Read The Daily Courier.

The Social Calendar.

TUESDAY.—The marriage of Miss Irie Ford of Connellsville and Thomas O'Donnovan of Leesburg No. 1 will be at St. Vincent DePaul's Father Brown's, 11:30 a.m. In the evening Mr. O'Donnovan will give a dance in St. Vincent DePaul's hall in honor of the event.

THURSDAY.—Mrs. L. P. McCormick will entertain the Thursday Afternoon Card Club at her home on Vine street.

Clubs and Societies.

MONDAY.—The Woman's Culture Club is holding a social meeting this afternoon at the home of Miss Florence Goldsmith on West Main street.

TUESDAY.—The Ladies of the Methodist Aid Society of the Women's Guild of the Trinity Episcopal church will be held at 2:30 o'clock at the rectory. The D. of R. Class of the First Baptist church will hold a social at the home of Miss Stella Stauffer on Third street, West Side.—The Onward Class of the Methodist Protestant Sunday school will meet at the home of Carl Shander on East Main street.—The Ladies' Aid Society of the Dawson Methodist Episcopal church will meet at the home of Mrs. Showalter.—The Ladies' Aid Society of the Trinity Lutheran church will meet at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. J. B. Marsteller on East Fairview avenue.

FRIDAY.—The South Side Literary Society of the South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

WEDNESDAY.—A union meeting of the G. I. A. to the B. L. E. will be held in Mark Old Fellows hall.—The L. C. B. A. of the Immaculate Conception church will meet in the church bungalow.—The Knights of Columbus will meet in Markell hall.—The Ladies Aid Society of the First Presbyterian church will meet at 2:30 o'clock in the church.—The executive committee of the Men's League of the United Presbyterian church will meet in the church parlor.—A special meeting of the C. W. B. M. of the Christian church will be held in the church at the close of prayer meeting.—A meeting of the officers and teachers of the Sunday School will also be held.

THURSDAY.—The Ladies' Circle No. 109 to the G. A. R. will meet in Odd Fellows hall.—The Union Veteran Legion will meet in the City Hall.—The Pythian Sisters will meet in Markell hall.—The Woman's Guild of the Trinity Episcopal church will hold a bean supper at the Y. M. C. A.—The regular meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the A. M. U. will be held.—The Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist Episcopal church will meet at the parsonage at 2:30 o'clock.—The F. O. M. Class of the Methodist Protestant Sunday school will meet at the home of Carl Shander on East Main street.—The Ladies' Aid Society of the Dawson Methodist Episcopal church will meet at the home of Mrs. Showalter.—The Ladies' Aid Society of the Trinity Lutheran church will meet at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. J. B. Marsteller on East Fairview avenue.

FRIDAY.—The South Side Literary Society of the South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

Saturday.—The South Side school will meet at the home of Mrs. Showalter.

SUNDAY.—An informal service and social hour for the new converts will be given by the First Baptist church at 7:15 P. M. by the church officers and their wives.

FRIDAY.—The South Side Literary Society of the South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

SUNDAY.—The South Side school will meet at the home of Mrs. Showalter.

MONDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

TUESDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

WEDNESDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

THURSDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

FRIDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

SATURDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

SUNDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

MONDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

TUESDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

WEDNESDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

THURSDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

FRIDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

SATURDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

SUNDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

MONDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

TUESDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

WEDNESDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

THURSDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

FRIDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

SATURDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

SUNDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

MONDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

TUESDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

WEDNESDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

THURSDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

FRIDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

SATURDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

SUNDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

MONDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

TUESDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

WEDNESDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

THURSDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

FRIDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

SATURDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

SUNDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

MONDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

TUESDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

WEDNESDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

THURSDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

FRIDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

SATURDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

SUNDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

MONDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

TUESDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

WEDNESDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

THURSDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

FRIDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

SATURDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

SUNDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

MONDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

TUESDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

WEDNESDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

THURSDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

FRIDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

SATURDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Sherrick on Washington avenue.

SUNDAY.—The South Side school will meet in room No. 8.—The King's Daughters of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L

REV. B. F. WHITE ON HIGH SCHOOL.

Minister Still Persists in Discrediting Students and Faculty.

PUT BLOT ON THE TOWN

That Could Not Be Substantiated and Now Seeks to Follow It Up From Pulpit—Refuses to Discuss Sermon Delivered Yesterday.

Rev. B. Frank White, delivered a "sermon" last night at the United Presbyterian church which consisted mainly of an attack upon the High School students, with the result that the best entries in the competition of students who partake of alcoholics beverages. When asked this morning for an outline of his remarks Rev. White attempted to argue the former matter with the reporter and ended by handing up the paper with the declaration that he "didn't believe he cared to give The Courier any information."

From what can be learned of the sermon, Rev. White and School Director James S. Parr are said to have been the star performers in the pulpit, the minister calling the High School students to substitute his statements.

Among other statements said to have been made is one that while Principal Bruce C. Cobough of the High School declared there was only harmony in the High School, he had that very afternoon found it necessary to ask a School Director to get a police-man to preserve order among the High School boys.

Whether this statement was made to have confirmation, but Principal Cobough says he has never heard of the police being called in on Cobough and does not expect to begin.

The feeling existing between Rev. White and the High School faculty is far from friendly, especially on the part of the minister. As the result of the "explanation" Rev. White attempted to make before the High School students following the "75 per cent boot" incident, it is said he has threatened a libel suit against Principal Cobough, for the statements regarding the matter when Mr. Cobough made.

When asked for a statement this morning regarding his remarks last night, Rev. White suggested that the information might be secured from Mr. Cobough.

"He can be regarded as a reliable source of information on any subject he cares to discuss, can he not?" was asked Rev. White.

Bang! went the telephone receiver.

Evangelistic Church Services

Evangelistic services opened last evening in the Methodist Episcopal church and will be continued each evening during the week except Saturday. A large audience was present and considerable interest was manifested. Several new members were taken into the church. The services will commence at 7:30 o'clock.

Similar services will also be held this week in the United Brethren church, of which Rev. W. H. Spencer is pastor, and the South Connellsville Evangelical church, of which Rev. R. C. Miller is pastor.

Dunbar Boy is Missing From Home

John L. Minard, 17 years of age, light hair, brown eyes and light complexion, was missing from his home at Dunbar last Thursday night, and for no trace of him has been discovered. He was dressed in dark blue pants, black undercoat and greenish overcoat and wore a small brown cap.

His mother is a widow and says she needs his support. She asks that any officers who run across the boy please let me know.

PERCY FUNERAL

Heled From Late Home on Fairview Avenue on Sunday.

Rev. E. B. Burgess, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church, officiated at the funeral of the late David Percy, which took place from his home on East Fairview avenue yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The services were very impressive and were attended by a large gathering of friends and relatives of the deceased. The floral tributes were numerous and very handsome.

The following nephews served as pall-bearers: Homer James and Wallace Wilson, Charles Fiske, and William and Harry Percy. Interment in Hill Grove cemetery. Among the out-of-town persons who attended the services were Guy Baer of Pittsburgh, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Porter of Scranton, and Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Frock and son, Charles, of Uniontown.

Italy's International Exposition will open at Rome and Turin on March 27th. Steamship passage can be reserved and full information obtained at the Foreign Department of The First National Bank of Connellsville. All languages spoken.

The Farmers Discuss High Living Cost

"The High Cost of Living" was discussed Saturday at the regular meeting of the Union Farmers Club held Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Junk near Uniontown. Officers for the year were installed and J. Howard Dunn, the new president, took charge of the meeting. The subject was discussed at length. Among those who gave talks were T. H. Smith.

At noon the farmers and their wives adjourned to the dining room where a well appointed dinner was served by Mrs. Junk. The attendance was large and the club was represented by farmers from all over the state and from all over the country. Among those present from Dunbar township were Mr. and Mrs. C. Olofson. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Junk near Junctionville.

Pat Doyle Let Go by Cokers

Pat Doyle has been released by the Connellsville basket ball management, it is reported. It is because of financial stringencies. There has been a slump in the gate receipts lately although the team's winning streak is expected to put an end to this. In any event, Doyle has been let go and will leave shortly for his home in New Hampshire.

With two first class utility men in White and Exalt the management felt it could dispense with Doyle's services. Further retrenchment has resulted in sending no more men than the necessary along with the team when it plays the road. Neither Manager Fitzgerald nor Doyle accompanied the team to Johnstown Saturday night. Captain Dark taking care of the guard. None of the other teams carry a manager on the road with them and the Cokers will abandon the policy.

News That Isn't New From Bell Co.

The Chamber of Commerce is in receipt of a communication from the Central District & Printing Telephone Company, better known as the Bell, giving information of the fact that an all night telegraph service has been refused by the Western Union because of insufficient business, messages can be filed with the Bell telephone office after the telegraph office closes.

All the subscriber has to do is pay "telegram" to the exchange operator and pay the toll to the nearest office that is open, it being Pittsburgh in this instance. For the convenience thus afforded the subscriber is permitted to pay the regular rate on the telegram and the 30 cents toll charge by telephone.

John Bryson Suffers a Stroke

John Bryson, a well known citizen of Dunbar, suffered a stroke of apoplexy on Saturday evening about 5:40. Mr. Bryson was sitting in a rocking chair and his wife was reading to him when he fell forward. The family doctor was summoned at once and Mr. Bryson rallied. He is now in a seemingly a little better and is resting easier.

John Bryson has been in poor health for the past two years, but at present seemed to worse than usual. Many friends wish him a speedy recovery.

IMPRESSIVE SERVICES

At the Funeral on Saturday of Mrs. Elizabeth McMaster.

Impressive funeral services were held over the remains of the late Mrs. Elizabeth McMaster Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from her late home on Limestone Hill. Rev. R. C. Wolf, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church officiated. The services were largely attended and the floral tributes were numerous and pretty. Interment in Hill Grove Cemetery.

MRS. DAVID HEINBAUGH

Aged 65 Years, Died at Her Home at Pittston.

Mrs. David Heinbaugh, aged 65 years, mother of Mrs. H. H. Nicholson of Connellsville, died yesterday morning at 9 o'clock at her late home at Pittston. Pneumonia was the cause of her death.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock at St. Paul's church. Deceased is survived by her husband and eight children.

Smith Under Arrest.

On his return to his home in Connellsville after a 10 day's absence, Bertie Smith, alias King, wanted on a charge of the murder of Anna Wright, was arrested yesterday morning between 11 and 12 o'clock, through the prompt action of Sheriff P. A. Johns, County Detective Alex McBeth and Deputy Garret Emma.

New Census Figures.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—(Special) The census bureau this afternoon announced the 1910 population of Lower Merion township, Pa., as 17,671.

Classified Advertisements in this paper cost only 1 cent a word. Have you tried them?

Congressman Underwood, Chairman of Committee on Committees, to Father New Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—The Ways and Means Committee of the Lower House has power to name the committee and in taking that power from the Speaker the Democrats have won a radical change of recent years. In the House Oscar W. Underwood, of Alabama, chosen as the Democratic caucus to Chairman of the Ways and Means, becomes the second most powerful man in the Lower House, and in many cases he will be certain to have more influence than the Speaker. He will as Chairman of the Ways and Means becomes, have much to do in designating who shall serve on the various committees. Congressman Fitzgerald of Brooklyn opposed the new plan of taking the upholding of the tariff away from the Speaker. Mr. Underwood became floor leader in the House for the majority.

SMITHFIELD.

SMITHFIELD, Jan. 23.—Stewart Morton of Nicholson township No. 2, was a business visitor Saturday.

Mr. Peter and Mrs. and Miss Spindler of Wooddale, were borough shoppers Friday.

Mr. J. A. Nease of Anderson Cross Roads, Pa., a shopper Friday.

Mr. G. A. Fether and son, Ray, were visiting Mrs. Fether's parents at Bradock over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Trimper of White House, were business visitors Friday.

Smith is transacting business at Fairmont and other points in West Virginia.

Dr. H. E. Howard of Fairmont, visited the Smiths Saturday.

Edwin Watters of Mountaineer, was a borough business visitor Friday.

William Ruby of Ruby, was transacting business in the borough Friday.

Mr. J. C. Hutchinson of East Moore, Pa., was a visiting business visitor Saturday.

Richard Moore of Uniontown, is the guest of his brother J. D. Moore. These brothers are Civil war veterans and have been with the Union army.

Business was very good Saturday.

Business was very good Saturday.

At the First Baptist Church will be held this evening.

The annual business meeting and supper of the First Baptist church will be held Thursday evening in the church. The election of officers will be from 7 until 8 o'clock and promptly 8 o'clock supper will be served.

At the table every treasurer will report for the year ending January 1, 1911. All members of the congregation are invited to attend.

Fernia Is to Get His Release

Special to The Courier.

UNIONTOWN, Jan. 23.—The final papers have been prepared for the release of Larry Fernia from Huntingdon and will be forwarded to that institution immediately. Fernia was sentenced to Huntingdon in December, 1908.

Larry Fernia, along with Gustave DeRott and Serbia Rovoda, who is alleged to have held up and robbed it.

A. A. Ackerman near Brownsville, they were accused of being Black Hand workers.

The other two men got three years in the penitentiary but Fernia's age secured for him a lighter sentence.

BUSINESS MEETING

Of the First Baptist Church will be held this evening.

The annual business meeting and supper of the First Baptist church will be held Thursday evening in the church.

The election of officers will be from 7 until 8 o'clock and promptly 8 o'clock supper will be served.

At the table every treasurer will report for the year ending January 1, 1911. All members of the congregation are invited to attend.

It Is Creating a Wonderful Stir Here.

People all over the town are talking about the wonderful stir here.

What is being done here?

What is being done here?</

Sheriff Shields Stirs a Tempest At Final Hearing Before Controller.

GREENSBURG, Jan. 23.—Pacing the court room in a cool and collected manner and silencing out one after another of his accusers in the investigation conducted by Controller John D. Hitchman, Sheriff John E. Shields, high peace officer of Westmoreland county, read them off systematically Saturday, telling the officials how much they were influenced, telling the attorneys the kind of men he thinks they are and their pedigrees, saying that the investigation was a "put up job" by the coal companies, while uttering the greatest sense of irony that was ever uttered. In a Westmoreland county court room, surpassing in its dramatic qualities the most famous trials that have ever taken place in the county.

The last session of the hearing, which has been conducted by Controller John D. Hitchman to inquire into the accounts of Sheriff Shields in connection with his hiring of deputies and the money paid to him by the coal companies in connection with the strike in the coal fields of this county, which has been in progress for the two weeks, had just closed when the storm broke.

The manner in which Sheriff Shields rose from his chair and strode into the middle of the room, silencing something out of the ordinary. A stillness settled over the court room to that had a pin fallen it would have started a spectator. When the high peace officer opened the vials of his wrath upon those who had been foremost in making the trouble for him it was surprising that the attorneys, coal operators and court officials sat aghast and open-eyed at the audacity of one so bold as to defy them all and compel them willingly or unwillingly to become auditors to what he had to say.

With the bewigged judges of this country of a century past may have had in mind when they added frames on the walls on the massive beams who had taken the reins into his own hands and with a stillness on the part of the spectators that would do credit to the most finished orator, Sheriff Shields had everything his own way and was heard to his heart's content.

The stillness caused first by the daring of the official was followed by a violent uproar and for more than half an hour the clamor continued as efforts were made to get the official to sit down and shut up. The Sheriff did sit down and did cause his flow of bitter language, after he had completed what he had to say and not until then.

The routine of the Saturday morning hearing had been completed, with all the controller had closed the hearing and was just ready to adjourn when Sheriff Shields assumed his place of vantage. A giant in stature, massive frame, curly tawny hair, just a little silvered, strong features of the old Roman type and weighing about 250 pounds, Sheriff Shields is a man to be admired physically, and to be feared at the same time. Without weighing what he had to say the Sheriff broke loose and the bitter tirade continued for about half an hour.

Controller Hitchman, his attorneys, four other prominent county officials, the courts, the juries and others that Sheriff Shields believes to be in the wrong were not exempted. The "ho" was used several times by the Sheriff and his words were often lost.

Turning to Controller Hitchman the Sheriff burst forth: "If you hadn't been influenced by the coal companies you would never have brought this investigation."

"What right have you to say that?" angrily demanded Mr. Hitchman.

The Sheriff did not give any further explanation, but stuck doggedly to his statement. He next attacked the controller's attorneys on their reputation and hinted at alleged past wrongs by various officials. To Attorney James S. Beacon he said: "Your skirts are not any too clean. Your history goes down back." He referred to Attorney G. C. Clegg, his independent and iron, and Nolin T. Cott, the third attorney for the Controller, came in for a full share of the wrath.

When the first calm was over a fearful tempest broke loose and the controller and his attorneys tried to taunt the Sheriff with the accusation that he was begging for mercy.

"I am not begging for mercy," he shouted, bringing his fist down on the table with a bang. "All I ask for is a square deal," he cried, leaning across the table toward the Controller.

Turning to another proposition that has come in for considerable discussion about the court house since the investigation began the Sheriff made a verbal attack upon Regulator of W. A. Miller, President of the National Association of Death Thomas and Treasurer Lloyd U. Ditch, declaring that each one of them collected fees in addition to his specified salary. The Regulator he said, collected a percentage to be paid, collected a percentage on the inheritance tax; the Probate attorney a per cent on the naturalization tax; the Recorder a fee on dockets and the Treasurer a per cent on the State tax. His attitude questions their right to that money.

This caused a stir and brought a protest, that the officials are permitted to collect the fees through an act of the assembly. The session was finally adjourned by Controller Hitchman, Sheriff Shields and W. H. Seymore, Sheriff of Fayette County, which is the 4th largest in the state.

Controller Hitchman stated his report will be ready to be published by Tuesday, January 24.

Thus far by the records brought in by the coal companies it has been shown that Sheriff Shields received about $15,500 from them for deputy service. Against this he has paid the deputies from $1 to $15 a day, and shows expenses amounting to about $25,000.

Contract for New Railroad Will Be Let by the First of February.

The contract for the construction of the Buckingham & Northern railroad, which is to connect up the railroad lines of the Monongahela valley and Southern Fayette county with a new coal territory in Northern West Virginia and develop thousands of acres of coal and timber lands, is to be let between now and February 1. That is the announcement made at Morgantown yesterday by high officials of the company. The first statement of the rights of way are being made, and just as soon as they are completed the contract will be let and work started.

The connection between the Pennsylvania line and the branch at Rivesville, which will give a new through connection from Pittsburgh into West Virginia will cost about $2,000,000. The bids of 50 contractors are in the hands of Point Marion.

of the company's engineers. This applies of course only to the West Virginia end of the work.

The work on the Pennsylvania end of the road is being pushed forward as rapidly as possible, and the contractor will probably be let within the next few weeks. The Pennsylvania laws are somewhat different from the laws in West Virginia in regard to construction of railroads, and the rights of way are being made, and just as soon as they are completed the contract will be let and work started.

The connection between the Pennsylvania line and the branch at Rivesville, which will give a new through connection from Pittsburgh into West Virginia will cost about $2,000,000. The bids of 50 contractors are in the hands of Point Marion.

PLAN NEW TUNNEL UNDER SAND PATCH.

Said to Be Latest Scheme of the Baltimore & Ohio.

BRANCH THROUGH SOMERSET.

That Would Enable Trains to Run Direct Through from Somerset to Cumberland Instead of Going Around by Way of Rockwood Projected.

A new tunnel two miles or more in length under the present Sand Patch tunnel, starting at a point near Keystone and coming out at the eastern end at a considerable distance down the mountain. This would cut down the grade quite a good deal on either side of the mountain and when completed would solve the problem that has been puzzling the B. & O. people for number of years. The boring of the new tunnel would not be in the least interfere with traffic on the present road. In the tunnel, as far as possible, would be so far below as not to disturb the running of trains. The idea of going down deeper is to get below the quicksand formation that has made so much trouble in Sand Patch tunnel. Of all the schemes considered this one seems to meet with favor by the present officials and it is thought that it will prove far better in the long run than anything yet presented.

Another scheme being considered and from all appearances will be pushed through, is the construction of a branch line through the Berlin section of the county from Somerset to a point near Keystone, with large yards at Somerset, is the latest scheme of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company to get a line down over the dangerous tunnel now in use that has been condemned for these many years, as well as develop the coal fields of this section of the county and get the output of the workings to seaboard to best possible advantage.

This information is from a reliable source and comes from authority that is in a position to know what is being considered by the officials of the company. The scheme is along the lines of President Willard's policy of one good main line rather than maintaining two lines down over the mountain, as would be the case were another route taken, say via Downey or by tunneling out by the shafts, as had been considered on several occasions.

The new tunnel is to be bored directly under the present Sand Patch tunnel, starting at a point near Keystone and coming out at the eastern end at a considerable distance down the mountain. This would cut down the grade quite a good deal on either side of the mountain and when completed would solve the problem that has been puzzling the B. & O. people for number of years. The boring of the new tunnel would not be in the least interfere with traffic on the present road. In the tunnel, as far as possible, would be so far below as not to disturb the running of trains.

The idea of going down deeper is to get below the quicksand formation that has made so much trouble in Sand Patch tunnel.

Of all the schemes considered this one seems to meet with favor by the present officials and it is thought that it will prove far better in the long run than anything yet presented.

Another scheme being considered and from all appearances will be pushed through, is the construction of a branch line through the Berlin section of the county from Somerset to a point near Keystone, with large yards to be established at Somerset, plans for which are already being developed, those yards trains would be made up and sent right through to Cumberland, instead of going by way of Rockwood, as is now the case. This would not only lessen the distance from the Jenner and Quemahoning coal fields, but would develop the coal in the best possible advantage.

This information is from a reliable source and comes from authority that is in a position to know what is being considered by the officials of the company. The scheme is along the lines of President Willard's policy of one

good main line rather than maintaining two lines down over the mountain, as would be the case were another route taken, say via Downey or by tunneling out by the shafts, as had been considered on several occasions.

The new tunnel is to be bored directly under the present Sand Patch tunnel, starting at a point near

Keystone and coming out at the eastern end at a considerable distance

down the mountain. This would cut down the grade quite a good deal on either side of the mountain and when completed would solve the problem

that has been puzzling the B. & O.

people for number of years. The boring of the new tunnel would not be in the least interfere with traffic

on the present road. In the tunnel, as far as possible, would be so far below

as not to disturb the running of trains.

The idea of going down deeper is to get below the quicksand formation

that has made so much trouble in Sand

Patch tunnel.

Of all the schemes considered this

one seems to meet with favor by the present officials and it is thought that it will prove far better in the long run than anything yet presented.

Another scheme being considered

and from all appearances will be pushed through, is the construction of a branch line through the Berlin

section of the county from Somerset

to a point near Keystone, with large

yards to be established at Somerset,

plans for which are already being developed, those yards trains would be made up and sent right through to Cumberland, instead of going by way of Rockwood, as is now the case.

This would not only lessen the distance from the Jenner and Quemahoning coal fields, but would

develop the coal in the best possible

advantage.

This information is from a reliable

source and comes from authority that is in a position to know what is being considered by the officials of the company. The scheme is along the lines

of President Willard's policy of one

good main line rather than maintaining two lines down over the mountain, as would be the case were another route taken, say via Downey or by tunneling out by the shafts, as had been considered on several occasions.

The new tunnel is to be bored directly under the present Sand Patch

tunnel, starting at a point near

Keystone and coming out at the

eastern end at a considerable distance

down the mountain. This would cut down the grade quite a good deal on either side of the mountain and when

completed would solve the problem

that has been puzzling the B. & O.

people for number of years. The

boring of the new tunnel would not

be in the least interfere with traffic

on the present road. In the tunnel, as far as possible, would be so far below

as not to disturb the running of trains.

The idea of going down deeper is to get below the quicksand formation

that has made so much trouble in Sand

Patch tunnel.

Of all the schemes considered this

one seems to meet with favor by the present officials and it is thought

that it will prove far better in the long run than anything yet presented.

Another scheme being considered

and from all appearances will be pushed through, is the construction of

a branch line through the Berlin

section of the county from Somerset

to a point near Keystone, with large

yards to be established at Somerset,

plans for which are already being

developed, those yards trains would

be made up and sent right through

to Cumberland, instead of going by way of Rockwood, as is now the case.

This would not only lessen the

distance from the Jenner and Quemahoning coal fields, but would

develop the coal in the best possible

CHAPTER XIX.

Roscoe.

Roscoe had never been able to clear up his doubt as to Jeanne's identity, nor to solve the mystery of Cayley's appearance in the air. The doubt and the mystery tormented him worse than any other companion could have done. He thought, as he sometimes did, that the cause of all his terror, the thing which kept him penned up here in the cave and denied him access to more than the five edges of the beach, might be just a rather defenseless human couple, a man and a woman, and the woman beautiful, young, alluring—when he thought of all that he would do to into transports of joy which left even the most holy limb and exalted. If that were the situation, he might have killed the man weeks ago and taken possession of the woman.

The thing that kept him sane was, in itself, a species of insanity, the pulsation for gold which had led him to murder Captain Fielding. Every day he tramped up the glacier to the gold ledge and there, while the light lasted, he worked, cutting the precious metal out of the rock, and with infinite labor, boating it, packing it, and carrying it.

As weeks and months dragged along, this unvaried routine more and more compensated for the solitude and the terrors his superstition thrust upon him, and gradually restored to his old normal, formidable, brutal self. On the day when he made the discovery that was to terminate the long series of golden days which Jeanne and Phillip had been enjoying, he was, again, the wretched man who, during the long years of exile, had dominated even the captain of the Walrus and sent them to his will.

He was returning from the ledge along the crown of the glacier, when on the day of this discovery, he found that his accustomed path was interrupted by a new feature in the ledge, had occurred since he had come that way in the morning. And "it's too broad to leap over," so he was forced to descend the rougher and more difficult track which lay along the moraine.

Before he had gone three paces along this track his eye spied out something just off his path and a little below it, which caused him at first to utter a snarl of anger, but led him the next moment to give a wild blasphemous yell of joy.

The great bear, which had opened for the led down, in an instant, when the party from the Aurora had started to do after hours of hard labor—it had rivaled up the body of Perry Hunter, which, during all these months, it had kept imprisoned.

Strapped across the dead man's shoulders, just where he had carried it in life, was a rifle and around his middle a belt full of cartridges.

The next instant Roscoe was bending over the body, riding savagely at the dead bear, which roared his impatient fingers. But they were not to be denied. If they were strong, the hands were strong.

It was not five minutes later when Roscoe, rifle and ammunition belt in his hands, was hurrying on toward his cave once more. The body lay just where his desecrating hands had left it.

The ride was unfeigned; that he had seen at a glance, though, of course, all the mechanism of his breach was frozen, but a half hour's hard work once had been a shirt, suffice to put it into commission again.

Then, with the rifle over his shoulder, he staggered out of the cave. With his first glance abroad, he started. His devil was being kind to him today. There could be no doubt of that. Only, with a shiver, did Roscoe wonder a little uneasily.

He was still entertaining this notion, however, when a luminous idea occurred to him. Around on the far side of the hut, the west side, which looked toward the headlands, was a generalized heap of firewood, which Phillip had not been able to find room for inside the hut. Roscoe had with him a flint and steel and a quantity of tow. He never traveled without them.

With infinite precaution, against noise, he made, from a fire against the whole rear wall of the hut. Squatting with his rifle across his knees ready to use in case of an emergency, he methodically whittled a quantity of dry splinters of a few of the sticks, ignited them and carefully nursed the fire, until, under the rising wind, it grew to the beginning of a fair-sized conflagration. Then, catching up his rifle, he slipped around the other side of the hut, crouching down more than 20 paces away, and waited.

Already the fire was bursting finely and the silhouetted outline of the hut was plain against the glow of it.

His plan was a good one. The people, naturally, would have no excuse, and, probably, no thought, but that they almost certainly would, be bewildered and confused, and plainly visible to him against the glow of the fire behind them. It would be easy, from the safe shelter of the darkness, to shoot the man.

It was only, indeed, by the most halting breath that Roscoe's plan failed to work. The instinct of escape by the nervous, yet still a burning bullet, was almost irresistible, and it led Phillip and Jeanne to the very edge of the destruction, which Roscoe had planned for them.

Cayley had his hand upon the bolt of the great door, whither he had sprung when Jeanne's cry had awakened him, before the saving second thought stayed him and held him frozen where he was. For perhaps the second he stood there, while the memory of the unexplained bullet hole threw which he told himself could not possibly exist, except in his own fancy, yet fully expected to see nevertheless, the shadow of Cayley's great wings. And at last, he saw it impeding in the lower air, like a broadwing spirit, just above the tiny square of light which marked the location of the hut.

Roscoe abandoned his pursuit of the bear; all thought of it, in fact, was gone from his mind; but he did not, as on other occasions, drop down upon the ground, his face buried in his arms; nor did he turn and flee like one huddled up on the beach. He faltered, it is true, and his knees trembled beneath him, and yet, slowly and with many pauses he made his way forward.

He was horribly afraid all the time, but curiously was all the while overpowering fear. He was not more than 200 yards away when Cayley alighted beside the girl.

At what he saw, then, Roscoe dropped his rifle on the beach, with a whooping oath, and rubbed his eyes.

The light which diffused itself from an open window of the hut was not much, but it was enough to reveal the fact that this great man-bird, this golden-winged spirit which had kept him in terror for his own safety all those months was taking off his wings and folding them up into a bandolier, as matter-of-fact as if it were folding an umbrella. He stood there now, just an ordinary human figure of man; the very man, in fact, that he had been before and would have killed long ago had it not been for his overmastering terror of the thing with wings.

He presented a fair mark now, and was in easy range, but Roscoe was too thoroughly accustomed to seize the opportunity, and in a moment it was gone again. The two figures had entered the shadow of the hut, and the next moment the light disappeared.

For a moment, an accusation of rage against the two who had banished him and enjoyed immunity from him had found in the body of the great bear, and the belated observation of the fire, which was dragging the hut, must have been snatched aside by Roscoe himself into a perfect clear conception of Roscoe's plan.

"The other way?" The other way!

he cried, motioning Jeanne back through the storeroom, "into the cave. He is waiting for us outside.

"That's why he fired the hut. Quick. We must save all we can."

And so it happened that Roscoe waited in vain. He saw no bear; he had kindled a fire, a fury, a climax, and then the spate of the icy gale which was fanning it down into an inferno, smouldering glow. But no man appeared to furnish a mark for his waiting rifle, and no woman was delivered defenseless, shelterless, into his brutal hands.

The failure of his plan brought back a moment or two of the old superstition of horror, but his mind braced against it now and did not cover him again. Cayley had felt the blood stirring in his veins again, the power of consecutive thought and the ambition to live, coming once more into his possession. He had gone to work, feebly and drawling at first, but with constantly increasing energy and strength, at the task of opening up, once more, the tunnel through the red hot coals of the hut and settling matters once and for all.

He was sane enough to see that the advantage would be all against him in close quarters, he could not do much with his rifle, and so remembered the double revolver shooting he had seen upon the body of the bear, but he would have to go into the dark, with the freight behind him.

"No. It wouldn't do. He must wait. Well, he could afford to wait—much better than they could."

Reluctantly he rose, turned his broad back to the gale, and began making his laborious way back to the cave.

It was high time. His face was frozen again. The intensity of the cold had already rendered his rifle useless, for the whole mechanism of the breech was frozen fast. His strategy had failed in its ultimate intention, for nature had laid her great icy hand upon the board and for the present declared the game a draw.

With infinite precaution, against noise, he made, from a fire against the whole rear wall of the hut. Squatting with his rifle across his knees ready to use in case of an emergency, he methodically whittled a quantity of dry splinters of a few of the sticks, ignited them and carefully nursed the fire, until, under the rising wind, it grew to the beginning of a fair-sized conflagration. Then, catching up his rifle, he slipped around the other side of the hut, crouching down more than 20 paces away, and waited.

Already the fire was bursting finely and the silhouetted outline of the hut was plain against the glow of it.

His plan was a good one. The people, naturally, would have no excuse, and, probably, no thought, but that they almost certainly would, be bewildered and confused, and plainly visible to him against the glow of the fire behind them.

It was only, indeed, by the most halting breath that Roscoe's plan failed to work. The instinct of escape by the nervous, yet still a burning bullet, was almost irresistible, and it led Phillip and Jeanne to the very edge of the destruction, which Roscoe had planned for them.

Cayley had his hand upon the bolt of the great door, whither he had sprung when Jeanne's cry had awakened him, before the saving second thought stayed him and held him frozen where he was.

For perhaps the second he stood there, while the memory of the unexplained bullet hole

was plain against the glow of it.

His plan was a good one.

The people, naturally, would have no excuse, and, probably, no thought, but that they almost certainly would, be bewildered and confused, and plainly visible to him against the glow of the fire behind them.

It was only, indeed, by the most halting breath that Roscoe's plan failed to work. The instinct of escape by the nervous, yet still a burning bullet, was almost irresistible, and it led Phillip and Jeanne to the very edge of the destruction, which Roscoe had planned for them.

Cayley had his hand upon the bolt of the great door, whither he had sprung when Jeanne's cry had awakened him, before the saving second thought stayed him and held him frozen where he was.

For perhaps the second he stood there, while the memory of the unexplained bullet hole

was plain against the glow of it.

His plan was a good one.

The people, naturally, would have no excuse, and, probably, no thought, but that they almost certainly would, be bewildered and confused, and plainly visible to him against the glow of the fire behind them.

It was only, indeed, by the most halting breath that Roscoe's plan failed to work. The instinct of escape by the nervous, yet still a burning bullet, was almost irresistible, and it led Phillip and Jeanne to the very edge of the destruction, which Roscoe had planned for them.

Cayley had his hand upon the bolt of the great door, whither he had sprung when Jeanne's cry had awakened him, before the saving second thought stayed him and held him frozen where he was.

For perhaps the second he stood there, while the memory of the unexplained bullet hole

was plain against the glow of it.

His plan was a good one.

The people, naturally, would have no excuse, and, probably, no thought, but that they almost certainly would, be bewildered and confused, and plainly visible to him against the glow of the fire behind them.

It was only, indeed, by the most halting breath that Roscoe's plan failed to work. The instinct of escape by the nervous, yet still a burning bullet, was almost irresistible, and it led Phillip and Jeanne to the very edge of the destruction, which Roscoe had planned for them.

Cayley had his hand upon the bolt of the great door, whither he had sprung when Jeanne's cry had awakened him, before the saving second thought stayed him and held him frozen where he was.

For perhaps the second he stood there, while the memory of the unexplained bullet hole

was plain against the glow of it.

His plan was a good one.

The people, naturally, would have no excuse, and, probably, no thought, but that they almost certainly would, be bewildered and confused, and plainly visible to him against the glow of the fire behind them.

It was only, indeed, by the most halting breath that Roscoe's plan failed to work. The instinct of escape by the nervous, yet still a burning bullet, was almost irresistible, and it led Phillip and Jeanne to the very edge of the destruction, which Roscoe had planned for them.

Cayley had his hand upon the bolt of the great door, whither he had sprung when Jeanne's cry had awakened him, before the saving second thought stayed him and held him frozen where he was.

For perhaps the second he stood there, while the memory of the unexplained bullet hole

was plain against the glow of it.

His plan was a good one.

The people, naturally, would have no excuse, and, probably, no thought, but that they almost certainly would, be bewildered and confused, and plainly visible to him against the glow of the fire behind them.

It was only, indeed, by the most halting breath that Roscoe's plan failed to work. The instinct of escape by the nervous, yet still a burning bullet, was almost irresistible, and it led Phillip and Jeanne to the very edge of the destruction, which Roscoe had planned for them.

Cayley had his hand upon the bolt of the great door, whither he had sprung when Jeanne's cry had awakened him, before the saving second thought stayed him and held him frozen where he was.

For perhaps the second he stood there, while the memory of the unexplained bullet hole

was plain against the glow of it.

His plan was a good one.

The people, naturally, would have no excuse, and, probably, no thought, but that they almost certainly would, be bewildered and confused, and plainly visible to him against the glow of the fire behind them.

It was only, indeed, by the most halting breath that Roscoe's plan failed to work. The instinct of escape by the nervous, yet still a burning bullet, was almost irresistible, and it led Phillip and Jeanne to the very edge of the destruction, which Roscoe had planned for them.

Cayley had his hand upon the bolt of the great door, whither he had sprung when Jeanne's cry had awakened him, before the saving second thought stayed him and held him frozen where he was.

For perhaps the second he stood there, while the memory of the unexplained bullet hole

was plain against the glow of it.

His plan was a good one.

The people, naturally, would have no excuse, and, probably, no thought, but that they almost certainly would, be bewildered and confused, and plainly visible to him against the glow of the fire behind them.

It was only, indeed, by the most halting breath that Roscoe's plan failed to work. The instinct of escape by the nervous, yet still a burning bullet, was almost irresistible, and it led Phillip and Jeanne to the very edge of the destruction, which Roscoe had planned for them.

Cayley had his hand upon the bolt of the great door, whither he had sprung when Jeanne's cry had awakened him, before the saving second thought stayed him and held him frozen where he was.

For perhaps the second he stood there, while the memory of the unexplained bullet hole

was plain against the glow of it.

His plan was a good one.

The people, naturally, would have no excuse, and, probably, no thought, but that they almost certainly would, be bewildered and confused, and plainly visible to him against the glow of the fire behind them.

It was only, indeed, by the most halting breath that Roscoe's plan failed to work. The instinct of escape by the nervous, yet still a burning bullet, was almost irresistible, and it led Phillip and Jeanne to the very edge of the destruction, which Roscoe had planned for them.

Cayley had his hand upon the bolt of the great door, whither he had sprung when Jeanne's cry had awakened him, before the saving second thought stayed him and held him frozen where he was.

For perhaps the second he stood there, while the memory of the unexplained bullet hole

was plain against the glow of it.

His plan was a good one.

The people, naturally, would have no excuse, and, probably, no thought, but that they almost certainly would, be bewildered and confused, and plainly visible to him against the glow of the fire behind them.

It was only, indeed, by the most halting breath that Roscoe's plan failed to work. The instinct of escape by the nervous, yet still a burning bullet, was almost irresistible, and it led Phillip and Jeanne to the very edge of the destruction, which Roscoe had planned for them.

Cayley had his hand upon the bolt of the great door, whither he had sprung when Jeanne's cry had awakened him, before the saving second thought stayed him and held him frozen where he was.

For perhaps the second he stood there, while the memory of the unexplained bullet hole

was plain against the glow of it.

His plan was a good one.

The people, naturally, would have no excuse, and, probably, no thought, but that they almost certainly would, be bewildered and confused, and plainly visible to him against the glow of the fire behind them.

It was only, indeed, by the most halting breath that Roscoe's plan failed to work. The instinct of escape by the nervous, yet still a burning bullet, was almost irresistible, and it led Phillip and Jeanne to the very edge of the destruction, which Roscoe had planned for them.

Cayley had his hand upon the bolt of the great door, whither he had sprung when Jeanne's cry had awakened him, before the saving second thought stayed him and held him frozen where he was.

For perhaps the second he stood there, while the memory of the unexplained

COKERS WALLOP JOHNSTOWN BADLY.

They Surprise the Jaws by Going Right After the Game.

THE SCORE WAS 50 TO 26

With Fogarty Out of the Lineup Johnstown Made Poor Showing But Those Cokers Were Out to Win Anyway. Bad Night for the Leaders.

CENTRAL LEAGUE GAMES SCHEDULED THIS WEEK

Homestead	at Connellsville
South Side	at McKeesport
Johnstown	at Uniontown
Tuesday	at Connellsville
Wednesday	at Homestead
Thursday	Homestead at South Side
Friday	South Side at Connellsville
Saturday	Johnstown at McKeesport
Sunday	McKeesport at South Side; Johnstown at Homestead

Scores Saturday:

McKeesport	31	12
South Side	29	12
Johnstown	19	25
Homestead	19	25
CONNELLSVILLE	17	27
Uniontown	13	22

Games Tonight:

Homestead at Connellsville.

South Side at McKeesport.

Johnstown at Uniontown.

Can those Cokers win away from home? The answer this time is YES. They went to Johnstown Saturday night and beat the Potties to the quick taste. The final score was 50 to 26 and there wasn't a minute during the contest when the final outcome was in doubt. Captain Joe Fogarty was out of the game but the Cokers were going at such a pace his presence in the ergo would not have changed matters.

At the end of the first half the Cokers were leading 27 to 9 and only towards the close of the contest did they let up a bit to enable the Jaws to ease a few short yards.

Dill, Haggerty and Hugger Doherty were the shooting stars of the Cokers. Doherty, Ahern and Dark also got in some good work. Ahern caged two field goals and blunted both Krumm and Campbell, who jumped against him. Towards the close of the contest Johnstown ran in substitutes and gave up the ghost. Kummer went down in the second half and White moved forward the balance of the game. Both Kummer and White were particularly clever on the foul line, making 20 out of 21 tries. Kummer caged 17 out of 20 foul and White made 3 out of 4.

The Jaws:

Cokers—50. Johnstown—26.

Dark ... Forward ... Newman

Kummer ... Forward ... Noll

Ahern ... Center ... Keenan

Hegar ... Guard ... Haggerty

Doherty ... Guard ... McLaughlin

Substitutions—White for Kummer;

Haggerty for Noll; Hulatt for Haggerty; Campbell for Keenan.

Field goals—Kummer 5; Doherty 5;

Ahern 2; Hegar 2; Dark, Newman 3;

Haggerty 2; Noll 1.

Foul goals—Kummer 17 out of 20;

White 3 out of 4; Newman 0 out of 2;

Hulatt 5 out of 10;

Reference—Zing.

Some Notes:

All the first division teams lost.

Uniontown defeated South Side and Homestead trounced McKeesport.

Kummer and Doherty were the floor stars while Billy was at his best on the foul line. Work like that means more victories.

The Cokers made it three victories out of four games last week. This week they play but three games and two of them at home. During the week they meet but two teams, Homestead and South Side. The Houghties are about due for a trimming when they play here Friday night.

Swenson is getting plenty of work with McKeesport now. O'Donnell was out of the game and now Boggie is resting in. Swenson is the best utility forward in the league.

The Cokers now have 21 games to play; 12 at home and 12 on the road. Keeping up their present stride they should break into the first division before the season ends.

Last year the Cokers won their first game in the season in Johnstown on Christmas night. Little like this year, but the old Greenbacker quirk did not have the streak of hard luck the boys encountered here.

Captain Dark can be pardoned if he exhibits some crossness over Saturday night's game. He won't, however, if he will spend his time inciting his men to further deeds of violence on the road.

Captain Winnie Kinkaid made Harry Hough look like an amateur on the foul line Saturday.

Kid Dark is the only Coker who has

JOE FOGARTY IS LEADING LEAGUE.

Johnstown's Leader Showing Other Tossers the Way Just Now.

THE COKERS FIGURE HIGH

Kummer Ranks Fifth, White Eighth and Dark Ninth in Total Points Scored—Beggs and Doherty Well Up and Ahern Climbing Steadily.

PARIS, Jan. 23.—Mme. Melba, the famous soprano opera singer, is seriously ill at the home of friends in this city in the Boulevard Maleherbe. She was attacked by the grip, and complications have set in.

played in every game this year. Last year he was in every contest the Greensburg team played. Dark hasn't been out of the game for a minute this season.

The best game in the league Saturday was at Homestead. The Tubs and Young Americans ran neck and neck through both halves. The final score was 33 to 35. Herron's field goal and Adams' foul winning the game for Homestead in the minute of play.

With Homestead playing a much better game than usual the Cokers will have their work cut out for to night and Tuesday.

Averages for the first 10 weeks of the season show Billy Kummer second among the foul takers with 109 and Adams with 100 or more field goals to their credit.

The Cokers now have no chance of winning the season's series from either McKeesport or South Side. Both of these teams have taken eight games from the Cokers, McKeesport losing one and South Side none. To date the Cokers and Homestead are tied on their series, each team having won 1 game. The Cokers have won 1 game from Johnstown and lost 6 times and have defeated Uniontown 6 times to 3 defeats. The Darkites stand a splendid chance of winning the season's series from the two teams save McKeesport and South Side.

Johnstown seems to have South Side's number. The Jaws are the only team ahead of South Side in games played to date, having won 5 and Kummer and White were particularly clever on the foul line, making 20 out of 21 tries. Kummer caged 17 out of 20 foul and White made 3 out of 4.

There has been some confusion regarding the standing of the clubs, particularly Steel, South and South Side. The standing in The Counter today is corrected to date and shows McKeesport with a slight lead.

A Clever Ruse Saves Sir Thomas

United Press Telegram.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—A clever ruse on the part of Sir Thomas Plinton probably saved his life from attack by a madman, who drew a razor and demanded money of him at his home in Southgate.

Sir Thomas received a telephone call this afternoon from a man who said he was a Scotland Yard detective and wished to speak with Lipton regarding a forgery by one of his employees. The man asked to be received at Lipton's house, and Sir Thomas readily consented.

When the alleged detective arrived, he asked Sir Thomas to leave the hall room, where he drew a large sum from his pocket and demanded a large sum of money, threatening Sir Thomas' life if he refused. Realizing that he had a crazy man to deal with, Sir Thomas had the humor the visitor.

"All right," he said, "I will get you the money just as soon as I answer that telephone call."

The visitor was thrown off his guard by Lipton's intimation that the telephone had rung, and allowed Lipton to leave the room. Lipton immediately telephoned the police who arrived within a few minutes and placed the man under arrest.

Feehan Seated; Caput Withdraws

United Press Telegram.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 21.—President Francis Feehan, of District No. 6, was seated as a delegate in the Mine Workers' National convention here this morning, with the expected protest of Thomas Caput.

The credentials committee announced that Caput had withdrawn his protest at the last moment.

Wants, for rent, for sale, etc., cost only one cent a word.

THE DAILY COURIER, CONNELLSVILLE, PA.

Rub Ezo on Feet.

And All Soreness and Burning Will

Fade Away As If By Magic.

Ezo for the feet, nothing like it in this world, nothing like it in the world, this is what everybody is talking about, and when you rub it on the feet it penetrates into the pores, and quickly drives out the cause of painful inflammation.

As you see, the reliable druggist, is selling a whole lot of Ezo to people who must have strong feet that will support a vigorous body.

Get Ezo for your leader, burning feet, get it take out the agony from those painful corps and hounds. Use it today and have good feet to-morrow.

Besides Ezo for the feet we also make EZO GROOMING OINTMENT an extraordinary remedy for chapped hands and feet; for a delightful massage for red nose and for all diseases of the skin.

The price of Ezo Retail Ointment is 10 cents a jar, but on trial purchase with 10 cents a jar, add 10 cents on receipt of cents to stamp to cover mailing.

Ezo Chemical Co., Rochester, N. Y.

Everything to Wear For Every Occasion.

Wright-Metzler Company

Housewares and Curtains That Make Cheerful Homes

Varieties Still at High Tide

Although the Clearance Sale is Over.

After closing up the "Big Sale" began gathering up the "chips" for this one.

We look for a busy week disposing of price-clipped "left overs."

Scattered Over the Store, Displayed and Price-Marked—Easy for Everyone to Pick What They Need.

FOR

SHOES

MILLINERY

MEN'S SUITS

WOMEN'S SUITS

BASEMENT WARES

SOILED GOODS

ALL REMAINING REMNANTS

Come Today!

Wright-Metzler Co.

Soisson Theatre.

Monday, Jan. 23

Monte Thompson

Presents

Mr. John Meehan

In the Best of American Comedies

The Man on the Box

from Harold McGrath's Most Popular Novel.

Special Cast and Production.

Prices 25, 35, 50, 75, $1

Seats Now on Sale.

Both Phones.

PATRONIZE THE

South Connellsville

Cash Meat Market

AND SAVE MONEY.

HAVE YOU TRIED OUR

Hot Soda

yet? Lots of wise people have had and they are always coming back for more.

There Must Be a Reason

We are also serving

ice cold soda and fancy

drinks that are good.

Ice cream by the dish or bucket.

F. H. Harmening

Pharmacist,

815 W. Main Street,

Connellsville, Pa.

We Deliver.

PRICES

25, 35, 50, 75c

Seats now on sale at the theatre.

Both Phones.

South Connellsville

Cash Meat Market

Corner Pittsburg and Pine Sts.

South Connellsville, Pa.

Patronize the

Wells-Mills Electric Co. Inc.

Our new store is open day and